

Canadian Legion Elect Officers

The election of officers was held at the regular meeting of the Canadian Legion on Saturday evening. The following were elected to the various offices:

W. A. Austin, President.
J. D. Thomas, 1st Vice President.
Ed. Craig, 2nd Vice President.
W. W. Gilbride, Sec.-Treas.

Executive
Town: Frank Kaufman and W. T. Pitt.
East: Max Wood and W. Loader.
West: E. Cogswell and J. Robertson.

President Roosevelt Victorious in U.S.

President Roosevelt was re-elected in a sweeping victory over Governor Landon in the U.S. elections on Tuesday. It was even a greater landslide for the democrats than the election four years ago, the republicans only being able to carry two out of the 48 states.

From latest reports it appears the President will be fully supported in both houses of Congress.

Alberta Again Defaults Bonds

Unable to obtain assistance from the federal government or the Bank of Canada, the provincial government Monday defaulted its $1,250,000 bond maturity.

Officials at the Imperial Bank said that there was no movement of the debentures which matured on Monday.

"We have no instructions to pay principal. We are prepared to pay interest at the reduced 3 per cent rate," said a bank official. No bonds had been presented for payment within a short time after the banks opened.

Ask Relief Be Paid In Prosperity Certificates

At the meeting of the town council held Monday evening a resolution was received from the Didsbury Pioneer Social Credit Group asking that the council take advantage of the offer of the provincial government to pay relief orders with Prosperity Certificates. It was pointed out that up to the present no offer of Prosperity Certificates had been made to the town by the government.

A motion was passed tabling the resolution from Didsbury Pioneer Social Credit Group, pending an offer being made by the provincial government.

An application to purchase a lot was received from Mr. G. Martin, who proposed to build a small house. As the applicant stated he could not build before spring, the matter was held over until that time.

The balance of the meeting was taken up with discussing matters of relief.

Burglars Enter Hawkes' Store

Hawkes' Store was broken into on Friday night and the thieves got away with the cash Mr. Hawkes had collected as sales tax.

The burglary was discovered shortly before midnight by Constable Kercher, who found that the panel of the back door had been broken out. It was apparent that the thieves were after cash, as no goods had been taken.

Police are investigating the case, but up to the present the culprits have not been apprehended.

Obituary.

Mrs. DAVID LEIGH

Mrs. David Leigh, aged 71 years, who was one of the oldest settlers in the Didsbury district, passed away at her home 4 miles northeast of town on Tuesday, November 3, 1936.

Edith Annie Leigh was born in Ontario on July 7th, 1865. She was married to David Leigh in La Motte Township, Sanilac County, Michigan, 45 years ago. In 1900 they moved to Didsbury and homesteaded on the farm 4 miles northeast of Didsbury on the C. & E. highway where they lived continuously until the time of her death.

She leaves to mourn her loss: her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Alma Wilson of Olds; Mrs. Millicent Mullen of Elkton; and three sons, N. James Leigh at home; Alvin G. and James F. Leigh, both of Oakland, California.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Mr. Ivan Wilson, Olds, on Thursday, November 5th at 2:30 p.m. The pallbearers will be: N. James Leigh, Alvin G. Leigh, Doris Wilson, Ivan Wilson, George Mullen and Kenneth Mullen.

The funeral arrangements will be in charge of Gooder & Son, Olds.

HERBERT DAVID SINCLAIR

Herbert David Sinclair, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Sinclair, died at their home on Monday, November 2nd, aged 9 months and 7 days. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the Durrer Funeral Home, Rev. J. R. Geeson officiating.

Armistice Day Wednesday, Nov. 11th

All Business Houses in Didsbury will be closed all day on Armistice Day.

Will Lay Wreaths at the Memorial

The usual service at the Memorial on the Butte will be observed on Armistice Day, November 11th, at 11 a.m., to which all are invited to attend.

The president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion will lay wreaths on behalf of the provincial government and the Canadian Legion, and a wreath will also be laid on behalf of the I.O.O.F. Wreaths may also be laid by the public.

All returned men are asked to meet at the public school and parade to the Memorial.

Remembrance Service at Evangelical Church

On Sunday evening the Canadian Legion will hold their annual Remembrance Service at the Evangelical Church. Rev. A. S. Caughell will deliver the sermon and the choir will render special music.

The Legion will meet at their hall at 7 o'clock and will parade to the church at 7:30. Members and all returned soldiers are invited to attend, also the general public.

Hallowe'en Party.

The C.G.L.T. Girls entertained their boy friends to a Hallowe'en masquerade party in the United Church basement Monday evening. The youngsters were mostly dressed in costume and got lots of fun visiting the "House of Ghosts" and taking in the "Mystery Walk," where they received both thrills and shocks. After the usual Hallowe'en games the girls served an appropriate lunch.

The meeting closed with the serving of lunch which was much enjoyed by all present.

State Credit Houses Open In November, Maynard Declares

State credit houses in Alberta will be opened in November, it was announced by Hon. Lucien Maynard, minister without portfolio, at a board of trade meeting in Wetaskiwin on Tuesday night of last week. Use of Alberta credit would be on a voluntary basis, he said, the government not having the power to make it compulsory.

Mr. Maynard expressed satisfaction with the registration of the producers willing to co-operate with the government and was confident also that manufacturers and retailers would give the government their support.

WANTED

Wanted—Applications will be received for the position of caretaker of the Curling Rink. Applications must be in my hands Monday, November 9th.

Armistice Day Concert.

The annual concert given under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion to be held next Wednesday, will be an innovation. Previously they have depended on local talent, but this year they are engaging some of the best talent obtainable in the city of Calgary.

The artistes will be: Betty Taylor, soprano; Jean Gilbert, pianist and violinist; Helen Boesle, accompanist, and Gilbert Patrick, comedian.

Barbara Brown who has already appeared before Didsbury audiences, is one of the principal attractions on the program. She is a dancer of repute, having won several championships. The audience will again enjoy seeing her in her Highland, Irish and tap dancing. She will be accompanied by Pipe Major Alick Oliphant, who has the reputation of being one of the best exponents of the bagpipes in the province.

After the concert an oldtime dance will be held. Admission to the concert will be 35c, and including the dance, 50c.

WEDDINGS

EBY—NEILSON

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the M.B.C. Church on Thursday, October 22nd, when Edna Pearl Neilson of Acadia Valley was united in marriage with Arthur Erland Eby of Alsask, Sask. Rev. P. Dyck of Acadia Valley officiated, assisted by Rev. A. Traub.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, entered to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March played by Miss G. Eby. She was charmingly gowned in an ankle-length dress of white silk and carried her Bible which was covered with white silk on which lay a lily and fern. Her veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossom.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Clara Neilson, wore white silk and carried pink carnations. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Lawrence Eby.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to about sixty guests at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Ira Stauffer. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. H. Edwardson. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Eby left for Calgary. They have now taken charge of the M.B.C. pastorate at Mayton.

Year-Round Fire Prevention

Fire prevention week has come and gone, but fire hazards are still extant. If, however, the lessons learned during the recent fire prevention week's campaign are taken to heart and borne in mind, the risks of loss of life and property from this source should be minimized, in any event for a short time until memory withers.

In a country like Western Canada, however, fire prevention week should be every week the year round, so far as the individual is concerned, and certainly from October 1, when hard stoking commences, until about April 7 when furnaces and stoves are extinguished for a short summer season.

As indicated at the outset memory soon lapses, and while impressions of the importance of care and precaution in the handling of fire may be vivid during the course of a public campaign, such as accompanies an event like fire prevention week, they soon fade. Such campaigns serve a useful purpose temporarily, but whether they are effective permanently depends upon the receptiveness and retentiveness of the individual mind.

Moreover, with fire, as with everything else, familiarity breeds contempt. The continuous use of fire in the home or store, day in and day out for 24 hours of the day is apt to result in relaxation of precautionary measures against potential contingencies. This, coupled with increasing impairment and declining efficiency of equipment as the long winter months drag towards a close, combines to enhance the hazards of loss from conflagration.

These observations are inspired by the facts which statistics of Dominion and provincial authorities and fire insurance companies and newspaper stories record.

Despite the annual campaign which is carried on with much vigor and great publicity by these combined forces in an effort to instill precaution in the public mind, the fire demon continues to take a terrible toll of life and property in this Dominion.

When it is reported that on the average, every day in the year one life is sacrificed and more than one person injured by fire and $110,000 worth of property goes up in smoke in Canada, the phrase "terrible toll" assumes definite significance and gives graphic portrayal to the adage which says that "fire is a good servant but a bad master."

A daily loss of property of $110,000 is equivalent to approximately $40,000,000 a year. The enormity of this sacrifice to the fire god can be better appreciated when it is pointed out that the figure is a close parallel to the Dominion government's contribution under relief legislation in each of the years 1931 and 1934, the two years in which federal expenditures for this purpose reached a peak since the depression started. In 1931 the federal government's relief bill amounted to $12,716,715 and in 1934 it was $36,930,144, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In other words, the people of Canada, on the one hand, are destroying annually $40,000,000 of property as a result of their carelessness in handling fire and on the other hand, are, in heaviest unemployment years, paying out approximately the same amount for relief of unemployment, through federal taxation channels.

Much concern has been shown and is being shown over the large sums which the federal government has had to pay out in its efforts to grapple with the loss occasioned by unemployment and industrial and agricultural depression. Figures of expenditures for this purpose and articles dealing with various phases of the cost of unemployment and depression have been published almost daily during the past few years, yet but little is heard of the equally heavy loss occasioned by fire, except once a year when the annual fire prevention campaign is in progress.

And yet this heavy fire loss is more easy to cope with than the unemployment and relief problem. All that is required is the exercise of the same care the year round as that which people display in the handling of fire during fire prevention week when the subject is fresh in their minds.

It is not necessary to recapitulate here and now the lessons which have been taught during fire prevention week, the precautions which must be taken to ensure that loved ones will not be burned to death or maimed for life and to prevent the destruction of homes, barns or other buildings and furniture. If only people will train themselves to remember and practice these precautions and to maintain vigilance the year round, this tremendous toll of life and property can be reduced almost to zero.

Ideals Of The League

Hon. R. B. Bennett Voices Appeal On Behalf Of League Support

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Canadian Conservative leader, told an Australian service club that the British Dominions must support any agency whereby the collective power of mankind prevailed against those threatening annihilation of the civilized world.

Mr. Bennett voiced a fervent appeal on behalf of the ideals of the League of Nations. "Because there has been a failure to realize the fullest hopes for the League, we cannot discard it in its entirety," Mr. Bennett said. "I refuse to believe Napoleon's maxim that God is on the side of the heaviest battalions."

The former Canadian prime minister said that while human nature had defeated the hopes for the League as enunciated by Aristide Briand, the ideal remained. "Although the League lamentably failed to express punitive power against an offending nation, the world must try again." He said that the British Dominions must support the League to this end.

Mr. Bennett asked Australians not to consider Canada as an appendage of the United States. The choicest of our nation laid down their lives on the fields of Flanders in British loyalty and Canada has no idea that any other nation exercises suzerainty or provides its protection. We are proud of our place in the Empire and conscious of our responsibility as being midway between Europe and Asia.

They had been married just about two months. Lunch was in progress. "Darling!" he said suddenly. "This steak tastes funny."

"Oh, yes, dear," she replied, "I forgot to tell you. I burnt it, so I put some vaseline on it."

Gold Production Gains

Production In Canada During 1935 Greatest In History

Gold production in Canada during July, 1935, advanced to 319,505 ounces compared with 316,670 ounces in June and 285,763 ounces in July a year ago. Production during the first seven months of 1935 totalled 2,087,014 ounces, an increase of 15.6 per cent. over the corresponding period of 1935. The price of gold during July averaged $34.91 per ounce, in Canadian funds, and valued at this price the Canadian output during the month was worth $11,153,920.

Gold production in Canada during 1935 was the greatest in her history, both in amount and value. The output every month so far this year has been greater than in the corresponding month a year ago, and all indications point to a new high production record for 1935.

John Carveth Wells, son of the famous explorer and who walked around the world in two years, may never walk again. At 25 he lies paralyzed in St. Pancras Hospital in London. After a gay and colorful life John Wells started a motion picture publication in London. He planned it, collected the news and the advertisements, and printed it himself. For months he worked from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. One day he collapsed in his office. Within 36 hours he could not move any part of his body. He has recovered the use of his hands and his head. Courage and determination have brought him through, and he declares he will not give up the fight to walk again.

Conscription To Raise Fighting Force To 800,000 Men

A widespread increase was ordered in the German military establishment as Nazi officials began conscription to raise their fighting forces to 800,000 men under the new two-year compulsory service rule.

Hitler, taking a leaf from the Kaiser Wilhelm system, decreed the two-year service Aug. 24 to become effective Oct. 1. The training period previously was one year.

The recruits are 21 and 22 years of age—Germany's war babies—parts of the classes of 1914 and 1915.

They will be distributed among the land, air and sea forces and represent an increase of from one-fourth to one-third in the nation's armed strength.

Distinguished Traveller Pays Fitting Tribute To Our Mountain Scenery

Many tributes to the great natural beauty of Canada's National Parks in the Rockies have been paid by visitors from at home and abroad. Artists, explorers, and mountaineers have joined in praising the scenic beauty and grandeur of the great mountain playground administered by the Department of the Interior. One of the most recent to add his appreciation of the National Parks in the Rockies is Dr. W. G. N. Van der Sleen, of Haarlem, Holland, distinguished naturalist, writer, and world traveller. Dr. Van der Sleen has, as he describes it himself in a letter to Mr. J. B. Harkin, Commissioner of National Parks in the Department of the Interior, "camped in the Himalayas, tramped the Andes, climbed the volcanoes of Java, and flown over the Alps." Having viewed these masterpieces of nature, he says "that the marvelous mountain scenery in some parts of the Rockies is unsurpassed."

Continuing, Dr. Van der Sleen describes his impressions of his recently concluded six-weeks visit to the Canadian Rockies as follows:

"The most surprising beauty of the Canadian Rockies lies in its lakes, and in the manifold settings nature placed them in. The wonderful Valley of the Ten Peaks forms the ideal frame for a gem like Moraine Lake. The mysterious beauty of Lake O'Hara, mirroring the glaciers on the mountain tops and just separated from them by the dark rocky wall over which the Seven Sisters come tumbling and sprinkling, hurrying and tinkling, drawing zigzags of foaming sunlight between the glaciers glowing in the evening sun and the already slumbering lake. Lake O'Hara seems to me one of the most beautiful spots on earth. Then think of the flower fields of Paradise Valley, the Dolomite Sentinels on Sentinel Pass. And all this to be reached in one day from beautiful Lake Louise as a centre!"

"With immense pleasure I made the whole Rocky Mountain circular tour, enjoyed the beavers on Bow River just as much as the Stoney Indians on the racegrounds. Then took the train via Kamloops to Jasper to cross the Rockies and Selkirk and delight in the beautiful vistas the train journey offers. We spent a week around Jasper of the Lakes and I found there some of the most imposing glacier-views. When the new road from Jasper to Lake Louise is built some 20 miles farther than it is now, it will be almost too easy to reach the Athabasca and Dome glaciers, floating down from the huge Columbia icefields. That part of the road is going to be counted amongst the most beautiful stretches of scenic highway to be found in the world."

The Care Of Milk

Containers Should Be Scrupulously Clean And Kept Covered

No matter what precautions have been taken to produce clean milk, or what hygienic methods have been adopted in delivery, it cannot be expected to keep well if it is treated carelessly afterwards.

As soon as possible after delivery, milk should be put in a cool, clean place, and kept there until it is required for use. It deteriorates by exposure to the air, and it should therefore always be kept covered. A further danger that arises if it is left uncovered is contamination by flies.

Milk should never be put in a warm jug or basin, but into scrupulously clean vessels; never into a dusty or soiled container. All vessels used for milk should be rinsed with water at or near boiling point, and then again rinsed with clean, cold water. They should not be wiped with a cloth that has been used for other dishes.

New milk should never be mixed with old milk unless it is for immediate use. The old milk is likely to contain a larger proportion of bacteria, and if the weather is hot souring will occur.

There are about 1,000,000 square miles of lake and river surface on the earth.

Made By Scottish Queen

Beautiful Curtain Now In Royal Museum In Edinburgh

A curtain of cerise woollen cloth, now in the Royal Scottish Museum in Edinburgh, is said to have been worked during the years 1567-1568 by Mary Queen of Scots, when that tragic lady was imprisoned on the island which lies in Loch Leven. The tapestry is divided by borders into two panels, each containing a row of three stylized vases of flowers (carnations, pomegranates, and roses). The borders and valances have a repeating pattern of similar flowers, enclosed by scrolling stems. The whole is worked in a black silk velvet cord and heavily embroidered in a yellow silk brick stitch, which is raised in places by padding. Details are added in satin stitch in various colors.

The character of Mary has long been one of the most fiercely debated questions of history, but her beauty and accomplishments have never been disputed. Born at Linlithgow Palace, brought up at the French court, she spoke three or four languages and wrote easily both in prose and verse. She was, besides, an accomplished needlewoman.

Comparatively Modern Fashion

Socks Had Not Been Heard Of 700 Years Ago

Seven hundred years ago, socks were not known. Men covered their legs with loose cloth wrappings, or with what appear to us as very narrow trousers; and in both cases the leg covering would be bound to the leg with criss-cross leather straps, to make the shape neat.

At the end of the reign of Henry III., men began to emerge from the long robes and cloaks in which they had always been draped, and took to shorter coats and tunics, combined with long tights.

These tights, or hose, were cut from cloth of various kinds and made to fit the leg by having gussets sewn down the sides as far as the ankles.

In the reign of Elizabeth the side seams or gussets of the long hose were covered over with embroidery, sometimes of gold or silver thread.

Nowadays the clocks on socks are only there for ornament; but they bring to mind pictures of the days when doublet and hose, ruffs and rapiers, Spanish hats and Flemish shoes were the fashion.

Gift From Queen Mary

Museum For Children Receives Miniature Japanese House

The director of Bethnal Green Museum, London, E., lost one of his finest models in the Children's Gallery of house, recently, reports the Daily News. Thirty of them had taken 13 years to collect. The women who had given many of them decided to take away the Japanese model. The same day it departed another box arrived. It came from Buckingham Palace, and contained a miniature Japanese house almost the same as the one taken away. On a slip of paper was a note in Queen Mary's own handwriting saying that the model was presented to her by King Edward when he returned from the East in 1922.

The model is made in sections like a real Japanese house. The roof comes off and it can all be taken to pieces. It stands 11 inches high and is about 12 inches across. The house is enclosed by a wooden fence on two sides and a hedge on the other two. This is the ninth miniature house which Queen Mary has given to the Bethnal Green children.

Has Healthy Appetite

"Little Jubilee," Vancouver's bear cub in Stanley Park Zoo, is growing up—and so is his appetite. Within 15 minutes he consumed a dozen apples, a head of celery, rhubarb, cabbage, some lettuce, a large stick of rock candy and some toast. He dusted this off with a peanut dessert.

The Royal Post Office

Fully Equipped Branch Always On Duty In Windsor Castle

Not many of the hundreds of thousands of visitors to Windsor who are escorted through the Royal Apartments of Windsor Castle may have discovered (says the Post Office Magazine) that there is a fully equipped branch post office inside the Castle itself, and, indeed, in the State apartments, staffed all the year round from the Windsor Head Post Office to afford postal services to the officials and servants of the Royal Household. Delivery and collection services are effected in the ordinary way by the postmen when the Court is not in residence, but when the Court is at the Castle a full-time postman-in-waiting is provided extra and boy messengers-in-waiting for the additional work inside the Castle itself. During the Court visits the Court Postmaster is present in immediate charge, and then H.M.'s official correspondence and despatch boxes are exchanged directly between Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle by G.P.O. motor vans. The Gentleman Porter still takes over His Majesty's personal items, but the Windsor postman effects delivery to the apartments of the Court officials and visiting Ministers and makes collections in the course of the day for the principal despatches.

To Renovate Historic Room

Where Regalia Is Always Kept On Eve Of Coronation

Among the preparations for next year's Coronation ceremony that are already in hand is the renovation and thorough cleaning of the Jerusalem Chamber in Westminster Abbey. This chamber, by historic usage, becomes the treasure house of the regalia on the eve of every operation. This is an ancient rite that has been vested in the Abbey ever since the days of Edward the Confessor. Next year, on the day before the Coronation, the Crown, and other Royal ornaments will, in accordance with custom, be borne from the Tower to the Abbey, where they will be placed in the Jerusalem Chamber and guarded throughout the night by Yeoman of the Guard. On the morning of the Coronation the regalia will be removed to the annex at the western end of the Abbey, and it is from there, upon arrival of the King, that the order of the solemn procession into the church itself is actually formed.

The butchers, the bakers and the coffee house waiters of Istanbul will donate 27 new fighting planes to the Turkish air force Oct. 29, the fourteenth anniversary of the Turkish republic. Istanbul butchers alone are buying four fast pursuit planes. The waiters are buying bombers, all being paid for out of the ten per cent. tips they receive.

Historic Quit Rent

Same Horse-Shoes And Nails Tendered To Crown For 500 Years

The claim by the Duke of Athol to present the King with two falcons on Coronation morning is but one of many such claims, says the Glasgow Herald, which recalls another quaint quit rent. Six horse-shoes and 61 nails were tendered recently at the London Law Courts to the Crown, represented by the King's Remembrancer as the City of London's quit rent for a site known as "The Forge," in the parish of St. Clement Danes. "The Forge" ceremony is believed to date back 700 years. It is astonishing proof of the continuity of tradition that the same horse-shoes and nails have been used for 500 years. After the city solicitor has counted out the shoes and nails, the King's Remembrancer pronounces "a good number." The strip of land paid for is said to have been originally granted for the erection of a forge where repairs could be carried out at a tournament of the Knights Templars. Later on it seems that the city authorities collected the rent and passed it on to the Crown. Although the forge has passed out of existence for hundreds of years, the shoes and nails are still handed over with old-time dignity every autumn.

Clean Bill Of Health

General Health Of Eskimos Reported To Be Good

A clean bill of health was given to the Eskimo population of Canada's eastern Arctic land by doctors who returned on the Hudson's Bay Company steamship Nascope, which makes a far-north voyage once every year.

"The general health of the Eskimos appeared to be very good," asserted Dr. R. G. M. Keeling, British physician who joined the ship at Southampton Island and aided as assistant medical officer on the Nascope.

There were some cases of scabies, but no other epidemic diseases were encountered at the points they reached. The white man's plague, tuberculosis, had not obtained a foothold in the north, the doctors advised. Cases encountered were in scattered districts.

He had noted "several distressing cases of cataract, which in one or two instances was causing total blindness."

Flowers are being sought in the Himalayas for the Royal gardens of England, rare poppies and lilies having been found at 10,000 altitude, and others are being searched for in Bhutan at 13,500 feet.

Great Britain has reaffirmed claims to eight islands in the South Sea Phoenix Archipelago, it was revealed in London. While the territory is said to involve only about 16 square miles, with a population of 60, the islands are believed to be of potential naval value.

The move comes at a moment when the question of colonies for Germany and Italy is becoming increasingly acute in the minds of those working for European peace and brought immediate reaction in Berlin.

Der Angriff, Nazi newspaper of which Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, was formerly editor, attacked the move, saying it paved the way for annexation by Australia of the whole sub-Arctic regions.

With a streamer heading on page one, the Nazi newspaper calls the action "A gigantic increase in the territory of the British Empire" and termed it evidence of British "hunger for land" and injustice toward German colonial demands.

First news came from German sources, showing how closely the situation is being watched, but it was confirmed officially that two naval sloops, attached to the New Zealand division, had been instructed to "take necessary steps to reaffirm His Majesty's claim" to the Phoenix Islands.

This was done by posting signs on palm trees on each of the islands.

The German newspaper emphasized that England's attitude was not dictated by the necessity to find an outlet for excess population and contrasts Australia's population of less than one per square kilometre with 139 in Germany and 153 in Italy.

The newspaper attacked England's "We hold what we have" attitude as proclaimed at the Margate conference of the Conservative party, now in power.

Agriculture Takes To Air

Planes Spray B.C. Pea Crop To Combat Insects

Agriculture has taken to the air in British Columbia where experimental flights to combat pea aphids have proven successful.

With the tail of his aeroplane spouting poison in billowing clouds, Pilot Maurice McGregor "dusted" more than 100 acres of peas on Sea Island, adjoining Vancouver's municipal airport. Aerial warfare against the insect will be continued over other fields.

The work was originally undertaken as an experiment. Two huge hoppers containing 650 pounds of poison were strapped to the wings of the aeroplane. Metal tubes were carried under the fuselage where they joined together in a huge dust sprayer.

Flying a straight course down the field the pilot was guided in his work by the white area covered in the dusting process. By doubling back and slightly overlapping, an area of 20 acres was sprayed in half an hour that would have taken days to accomplish by the old method.

McGregor flew as low to the ground as possible at a speed of approximately 85 miles an hour. This is believed the first time an aeroplane has been used in farm work in Canada.

Not Using Their Brains

People Could Do Amazing Things Opinion Of Experts

The so-called experts on mental matters are insistent that people generally are not using a tenth part of their brain capacity and they believe that if they did, the result would be amazing in the way of achievement. Their opinion is that the outstanding leaders in various human activities are simply those who have learned how to use a slightly larger percentage of their mental endowment than the average.

Only about 100 of the 60,000 children who left London schools in the last year have failed to find employment.

The World of Wheat.

By H. G. L. STRANGE

Director "Crop Testing Plan."

Canadian wheat is seldom used abroad as the main ingredient in making a loaf of bread.

The European loaf generally is made from native wheats. Such bread is nutritious, of good flavour, but is not very palatable; the loaf is small and heavy, not very attractive nor appetizing.

When, however, as little as 15 per cent of "Manitobas" is mixed with native wheats an almost magical change takes place; the loaf now becomes large, attractive, rather moist, of even silky texture with a crumb that is elastic and of a very light cream color; it has a nutty flavour, is palatable and also has a thin good golden-brown crust.

European people like this improved bread when they can obtain it and when they can afford it.

It is the inherent quality found in good Canadian varieties, and in a few other wheats, called "strength"—meaning quantity and quality of gluten—that is capable of bringing about this decided improvement in the European loaf.

Canadian wheat today is the "strongest" wheat in commerce. This is the only reason why foreign millers require it. It seems, therefore, that we must continually strive to maintain this superior "strength" or "quality" in our wheat if the world is to continue to "want" it.

Wheat prices have recently been pushed up by the following influences: Poor conditions persist in Australia. Fear of war in Europe continues. Chinese cotton crop largest on record, giving increased purchasing power. Construction increasing in world, demanding more linseed oil—so more flax, hence probable decreased wheat acreage. Many countries lowering tariffs, permitting additional wheat imports.

Prices have been pushed down by: Latest statistics world wheat shortage less than previously estimated. Crop conditions in Argentina improving. Exports of wheat occurring from unexpected countries. Japanese dry bean crop shows a decided increase. European hog population 5 per cent increase over last year. European fruit crop expected to be larger than last year.

Promising to add a dash of brilliance to streets and highways, 1937 38 automobile license will appear in bright orange with black lettering, it is announced by Deputy Provincial Secretary E. Trowbridge. The plates will be a reversal of this year's color combination. The design for 1937 had been planned to go in effect for the 1936 plates until it was discovered Saskatchewan had chosen the same combination.

Look At It This Way!

A retail store regards itself as being a public servant. Therefore, it is wholly fitting that it should try to be the best and most eager servant possible. A retail store which hides itself from those whom it wants to employ it, becomes under employed, and so its sales decline.

The public inclines in large numbers towards those stores which seek its attention and custom. It takes the advertising store at its own valuation. It likes to do business with those who manifest eagerness to serve it. It likes to buy at those stores which have to renew their stocks frequently.

Advertising is just communicating news and information about one's store and service. It is just a form of talking. It is those who are listened to. Silent stores lose out to stores which carry on conversation—in the form of newspaper advertisements—with those whose custom they want.

Any retailer who wants to get more customers—for the replacement of customers who become lost to him and for the expansion of his business—can surely get them by making his store important in their eyes, by putting in his advertisements the kind of information which will help buyers come to decisions.

The Pioneer advertising columns are the cheapest and most effective manner in which to get your message before the people you wish to cater to.

Westcott Notes.

Westcott School was the scene of a pleasing and educational entertainment given by the school children under the direction of their teacher, Mr. M. Perrin, on Friday afternoon last. There was a good attendance of parents and friends who all voiced it a big success.

The visitors were met at the door by two young colored gentlemen in silk hats and Prince Albert coats, the official ushers. The entertainment consisted of choruses, recitations, and selections by the Westcott hill-billy orchestra, with Burnell Reinhart on the guitar and Willfred Millar on the piano together with numerous home made instruments. The music delighted the audience.

The "Enterprise Work" was described by the pupils in turn as they were called to the platform by Chairman Reinhart. There was everything from a map of Alberta, the Glenmore Dam, and a complete farm home to a special dairy barn with electric lights, etc.

Mr. Perrin gave a talk on "The Enterprise" and outlined education from the ancient to modern times. The visitors were invited to inspect the work of the pupils and lunch was served by the school children at the close.

Instead of the regular meeting of the W.I., Mrs. Roland Webster was the hostess at a miscellaneous show, at her home last Thursday afternoon, in honor of Miss Mildred Levagood, whose marriage takes place this month. A goodly number were in attendance including Institute members and friends. A short program was rendered, following which the bride-elect, seated in the centre of the room, was presented with a decorated basket of useful gifts. She graciously thanked all present for their kindness. At the close lunch was served by the hostess assisted by several of the younger members. The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Spillman.

Burnside Notes.

Born.—At Sweetwater, B.C., to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Doll (nee Mildred Cipperley), a son.

Miss Gertrude Kaiser, of Wetaskiwin, has been visiting Miss Ruth Thoman.

George Metz and son Dick spent Thursday in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cipperley left on Saturday to reside in Calgary.

Miss Gertie McLean spent the week end with Mrs. Archie Weber.

Sam McAllister and Bill Wullawka were Sunday guests at the N. Eckel home.

Miss Dorothy Hehn is spending a month with her grandfather, Mr. H. Gardiner, at Rowley, Alta.

Mr. Hugh McLean, Miss Sadie McLean and Fred Fritz were Sunday dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hehn's.

Lone Pine W.I. will meet on Thursday, Nov. 12th, at the home of Mrs. Emily Hunter.

Mountain View Notes

Members and friends of the local W.I. assembled in the Community Hall to hold their October meeting. The president, Mrs. Blain, was in the chair and the meeting opened by the singing of "O Canada" followed by the repetition of the creed. During the business session patches were collected for a quilt now in the making, and arrangements for a dance to be held Nov. 6 were made.

A talk was given by Mrs. B. A. Atkinson on the new course of studies or enterprises, which greatly interested those present. The inadequacy of the present course was clearly shown. One "enterprise" was illustrated. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker. The November meeting will be held in the Community Hall with Mrs. Devolin as hostess.

The Community Hall road is now in good shape with the recent addition of gravel from the Gore School corner.

Melvin Notes.

A number of friends were entertained by Miss Beatrice and Mr. Douglas Landeen to a Halloween turkey dinner and party on Halloween night at the Landeen home. After the bounteous dinner, games were played and dancing followed. Light refreshments brought the evening to an enjoyable close.

Knox United Church Notes.

"LEST WE FORGET." Special Remembrance Services will be held at Westcott and Westerdale next Sunday. We urge a full attendance and extend a cordial invitation to all. These services will be at the usual hours. The service in town will be withdrawn, and the congregation is requested to join with the Evangelical Church congregation in the special service at which the Canadian Legion will be in attendance.

The Young People will meet in the Church Parlor on Monday at 8 p.m. This meeting is to take the nature of a social and an invitation is extended to all our young people to attend.

FACT No. 3: Over 1,300 workers in more than 1,000 centres throughout Canada and Newfoundland minister in needy areas under the direction of our Home Mission Board. The Evangelistic, Medical and Social work accomplished is of great value in the building of a Christian land.

Hartlepool, England, bombed by German warships during the war, when 100 people were killed, welcomed for the first time in 22 years a German naval vessel, the Elbe.

Hon. T. A. Cramer, federal minister of interior, in an interview at Jasper, Alta., said that the Jasper-Banff scenic highway in the Rocky Mountains would be completed in the next two years.

A closer political and economic relationship with the rest of the empire, and participation in Empire defence were essential for Canada, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson told the Canadian Club in Toronto.

Formal request that a segment of the better broadcasting channels be set aside for exclusive use of educational institutions was laid before the United States communications commission as it opened a hearing on proposed revisions of radio regulations.

Reformation Stamps

Two new stamps are now on sale at Copenhagen. They have been issued in connection with the 400th anniversary of the Reformation. Both stamps bear a portrait of Hans Tausen (1494-1561), the champion of Luther's doctrines in Denmark, based on a portrait in the Frederiksborg gallery.

Crooning might be classed as "swing" music. Some authorities, however, opine it calls for more severe punishment.

Another Life For Science

French Noblewoman Continued X-Ray Studies To Aid Sick

To the list of those who have given their life for science is now added the name of the clever and charming Duchess de Broncas.

The career of this "Florence Nightingale of France" is one of the most amazing examples of a woman's heroism in medicine.

Beginning at an early age in one of the leading X-ray centres in Paris, she rapidly gained a reputation as a brilliant radiologist.

After her marriage to the Duc de Broncas she insisted on continuing the work of bringing relief to hundreds of patients. Nearly two years ago she was taken ill. The rays had burnt into her skin and affected the tissues.

Her fellow-radiologists begged her to give up the work, and to go into hospital for treatment. "I would rather go on," she said, in a letter.

"We must all die sooner or later. I am a trained radiologist, and to give up my work would be to deprive a large number of people of vital aid."

The duchess invented a special type of electrically heated needle, regarded as a very important advance in X-ray treatment, and helped to perfect other X-ray instruments.

The effect of the rays on her health gradually increased. She lost one of the fingers on her right hand and her hand had to be amputated.

Then her arm was poisoned and was also amputated. Still she kept on at her post.

Could Not Accept Gift

Horse Offered To King Edward Had To Be Bought

The borough of Salford in Lancashire, England, offered the king as a gift a chestnut gelding called Cherry Grove, bought two years ago for the chief constable. Cherry Grove stands 16 hands high.

It is against etiquette for royalty to accept gifts outside their own immediate circle.

But the Duke of Beaufort, master of the horse, inspected Cherry Grove and bought him for £150 ($750). Henceforth he becomes the king's charger.

Agricultural Revenue Up

The total gross agricultural revenue of British Columbia is estimated at $42,419,992 for 1935, an increase of $2,593,851, or 6.51 per cent., over 1934. Increases are shown in the revenue from farm animals, wool, dairy products, fruit and vegetables, poultry and eggs, fodder crops, hops, nursery stock, and fur-farming. Minor decreases are shown in the revenue from grains, potatoes, honey, tobacco, and seeds. Compared with the preceding year, slightly higher average prices were recorded in most branches of the agricultural industry.

Research Has Done Much For Welsh Mountain Area

Scientists working at the plant-breeding station of the University of Wales, have almost completed experiments in breeding grasses which will stand the rigors of Welsh mountain climate.

There is a dearth of suitable pasture land in Wales, but nearly 20 years' research now makes it possible to produce pastures in strange places.

One outcome of the labors will be to facilitate all-season crops of strawberries, raspberries, apples, pears, and vegetables, normally available only during a few weeks in the year.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Only One Way Out

Debts Can Be Cleared When Borrowing Is Stopped

There is no practical way out of debt except to repay it. A dollar borrowed is a dollar owed and a dollar on which interest must be paid.

We are writhing now in the entangling meshes of the debt we have woven for ourselves. There is only one way to free ourselves: to stop public borrowing; to spend on government only those sums which can be obtained by reasonable taxation.

Brutal Savagery

Soviet Mining Engineers Cruelly Treated In Northern Russia

A story of brutal savagery in the wastelands of the far north has filtered back to civilization.

At Nordvick Bay, site of the Soviet's great new far northern salt mines, adventurous engineers braved the rigors of the Tamir peninsula, northernmost tip of continental Russia, in a search for oil.

To supersede them came Chief-of-Colony Kozloff, his assistant Zaharoff, and Engineer Lyzhin. They charged their predecessors with plotting sabotage against the government, inefficiency and waste, flogged them severely and exiled them to an outpost colony 200 miles away.

With their strength slowly ebbing, the group of engineers was forced to start their plodding journey through bitter weather.

Unable to make headway against Arctic storms they turned back to Nordvick only to be rearrested.

Although emaciated from starvation and sickness they were ordered to resume their march and, when they faltered, were thrown bodily on sledges for the long trip over the snow fields.

A government investigator, called north by the reports, cleared the accused engineers of plotting against the government, arrested the three officials of the colony and threw them into jail.

Cream Puffs For Bait

Were Used To Coax Grizzly Bear From Cage In Zoo

When zoo keepers wanted to coax Bruno, huge Rocky Mountain grizzly bear, out of his cage, they turned to cream puffs.

For 16 years Bruno was a resident of Kapiolani Park zoo in Honolulu. Transfer of the bear back to his native forests in Colorado was agreed upon. Attendants, knowing Bruno's likes and dislikes, laid a trail of cream puffs from his cage to a waiting car door. Bruno followed them and soon was whisked aboard a ship and sent on his way to Colorado.

Helped Build A Church

Tiger Skin Was Presented To Missionary In India

The "tiger skin that built a church," was on exhibition at Chalmers church, Ottawa, where the seventh General Council of the United Church of Canada was in session. The double-striped skin, presented several years ago to Rev. H. H. Smith, missionary at Sitamau, Northern India, by the Subah Sahib, of Maundassur, was sold when Mr. Smith found himself short of funds with which he intended to build a new church. It brought $700, enough to allow completion of the church.

The new Waterloo Bridge, London, England, will be opened for traffic at the end of 1939.

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —
GEORGIA GRAIG

He answered her as swiftly: "I'd know better than to use my regular line with you! Please give me credit for some good sense."

Starr could not have told why it was, but suddenly she felt her eyes drawn away from her dance partner as though toward a magnet. A little to one side of the room, Michael Fairbourne was standing alone, watching her. Handsome, debonair Michael. He smiled when her eyes met his, and his own gray eyes spoke a message.

They said, "Well done, Starr!" He was applauding her as he might have applauded an actress who was giving an extraordinarily good performance. That was all she meant to him. What was it he had said? "All I ask is that you keep your name in the headlines!"

He was pleased to see her making a hit with Lance, because any new flame of Lance Marlowe's was bound to be the subject of plenty of conversation—and newspaper copy. And every mention of her name by word of mouth gossip, through the tender mercies of the columnists, or as straight news would send the sales of his book soaring.

Suddenly within Starr Ellison was born an angry resentment against Michael Fairbourne. How dared he stand there so smug and self-satisfied, watching her carry on her pitiful mockery? What did he know of the reasons of desperation which had urged her to be his open sesame to riches via the publicity route? He was making her dangle on the end of a string like a puppet, and adding the supreme insult of applauding her gyrations. How dared he!

No, that was not quite fair. There was a two-sided bargain. Though he could never guess the reason for her acceptance of his offer, he had made her understand only too well what he expected of her. She, in her desperation, had been glad enough to accept his offer. How could she have known that association with Michael would stir so much of bitterness in the depths of her? How could she have guessed, for one wild moment, how it had come to be that sometimes when he was alone with her in that Egyptian penthouse which was the result of his crazy dreams that there would come times when she was afraid to trust herself to speak? How could she ever have guessed anything of that electric quality in the flame of him, that too often showed in his gray eyes when he did not imagine it, and that sent fiery warning signals dancing along through her veins?

Oh, it was going to be hard to play the game to the end—so very hard! But play it she must, and would. Yet it took all that was in her sometimes to keep from reeling when they would be talking together over some point and he would be so close to her that she could hear his heart pounding. She would have to hold onto herself to keep from swaying.

Her lids drooped over her eyes so that neither man could see them. Starr answered her own question. Life had been a question before. Now there was a new one—the question of what to do when love came unbidden. She knew what the answer was. She must learn to skim the surface of life as Lance Marlowe did.

She turned of the man whose arms encircled her, suddenly feeling the need of his worldly philosophy. He was smiling at her as the music stopped. He said:

"Have a little drink?" "Don't they always say, 'Nother li'l drink won't do you any harm'?" Starr laughed, but shook her head. "Me—I'm not so sure."

But he was leading her toward a partly concealed bar, elaborately fitted up in modernistic blue and silver. Again Starr shook her head faintly.

He persisted. "Do you good. A little drink softens life's sharp edges."

She gave a queer "little laugh. "But my life hasn't any sharp edges," she lied.

Lance's restless eye probed. He retorted, with a keenness of perception that was almost uncanny:

"Nonsense! Everybody has sharp edges!"

"Even you?" she parried. "Even I!" he mocked. "Most particularly I, because I fear you are not going to fall for me as rapidly as I had hoped."

That destroyed their seriousness. Suddenly Starr was laughing again, skimming the surface.

A gay little group was gathered around the bar. Stephanie was there, but Starr did not see Michael. Lance glanced around as he found a high stool for Starr, calling to the bartender: "Champagne!" To the group at large he suggested: "Join me?"

How about us making a community toast? A toast to—whom?"

A blond man whose hair was tousled and dress shirt awry weaved away from the bar and waved his glass. He was gloriously drunk, and one moment later it was quite as plain that he had been participating in a conversation that had for its subject Starr Ellison and the debut party being given in her honor by her publishers. The bartender was pouring the champagne. The blond man boomed out:

"A toast? Sure we'll give a toast! Let's all drink a toast to the newest and loveliest chateleine of Lance Marlowe's penthouse—Starr Ellison. Long may she wave!"

The glass dropped from Starr's nerveless fingers and splintered against the bar. Stephanie giggled, breaking a tense silence. Her eyes clashed with Starr's as she lifted her glass and drank deep. It was a deliberate insult.

The drunken man's words roused in everybody's mind the same thought; that the man in his cups may have known whereof he spoke, and that in wine there is truth. Very likely he knew that Lance intended to make Starr his mistress; that perhaps she had already agreed, so that it was no longer a secret. It would be in character. Her reputation was against her.

Lance said quietly, as he advanced a threatening step, his fists clenched: "Take that back!" The drunk swayed on his feet defiantly and leered knowingly, his glance wavering from Starr to Lance, and back again.

One of the girls squealed: "Oh, a fight!"

Stephanie's high voice cut in: "A fight, yes! For the honor of a woman who doesn't know what the word means! How exasperating!"

Lance hesitated in his attitude of threatening, glanced one at Starr and then showed his good sense. He grasped the obnoxious blond insulter by the arms and led him outside. Starr found herself trembling like a leaf. Never in her life had she felt quite so alone and friendliness. No one approached her. But everything had caught up with her in a rush, overwhelmed her. She was glad Michael was not there to be a witness to her humiliation, and then in the next breath was sorry that he was not. Had he seen, perhaps he might have been—no, he wouldn't be sorry. Why should he be? It was all good publicity, and that was what he wanted. That would have been all he could have seen in the entire episode. The human quantitative, or such a small matter as that Starr Ellison might have a soul that could be hurt—that would only be a small matter.

Almost immediately Lance Marlowe was back, swinging along jauntily, head high. As he reached her side Starr's lips formed the words:

"What did you do?" He said carelessly as a slow smile flickered across his lips:

Where Bicycle Is Popular

Number In England Almost Doubled In Five Years

A London letter in the Ottawa Journal says what will be to many the most surprising fact revealed by last year's traffic census is that the road vehicle which has been making the greatest advance in popularity in recent years is the humble push-bike. The figures show that the number of pedal-cyclists on our roads has almost doubled since 1931.

Though the bicycle is ubiquitous there are certain towns where it enjoys special popularity. Of these cities Oxford is believed to head the list, a fact which suggests that even in this age of motoring it is not every undergrad who can afford to keep his car. Southampton, a town which led notably in the first great boom of bikes and bloomers in the "Naughty Nineties," still possesses an exceptionally large number of cycling citizens, who, like their parents and grandparents, still turn out in hundreds to promenade the Avenue and Common.

The enormous number of cycles in use may possibly offset the impression gained from accident statistics that cycling is the most dangerous form of road transport.

OATMEAL COOKIES

Temperature: 325°F. Time: 12 to 15 minutes

1 cup shortening; 1 cup brown sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups Ogilvie Minute Oats; 1 1/2 cups Royal Household Flour; 3 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt.

Cream the shortening; add sugar, milk and Minute Oats. Add flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt. Chill thoroughly, as this dough is very soft. Take out small quantity of dough and roll into a small ball between the palms of the hands. Place these balls on a greased cookie sheet about 2 1/2" apart with a fork, press flat, first one way and then the other. Make as thin as possible. On top of each cookie press in a small piece of red or green cherry. Bake in a slow oven 12 to 15 minutes. These cookies may be put together with the following date mixture:

1/2 lb. dates; 1/2 cup sugar; 1 cup water; 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Chop dates; add sugar, water and lemon juice. Cook until mixture is thick.

New Species Of Fish

Live On Oysters And Eat Standing On Their Heads

A new species of fish that raid oyster beds and stand on their heads while they eat has been found off the Queensland coast.

They do not correspond with any other known species, T. Marshall, Queensland museum ichthyologist, their discoverer, says. He believes they are entirely new to science.

The fish range from 16 to 35 pounds and wrench oysters from supports with their tough lips. When eating they stand on their head with their tail visible above water. The upper body is a metallic green-blue, the lower portion silver and the tail a brilliant yellow.

Did Not Earn Much

Plymouth's first labor lord mayor, H. M. Medland, has gone off the gold standard. He continued working at the royal dockyard during his year in office. But one week civic duties occupied so much of his time his weekly wage packet contained exactly eight pence.

Here and There

Outstanding success has attended the publication of J. Murray Gibson's book, "Steel of Empire," in which is told the history of transportation in this country. The first edition of this comprehensive and finely illustrated work on Canada's history was sold early and another is now out in preparation for sale as Christmas gifts, for which it is anticipated there will be a heavy demand.

Effective January 1, 1937, contributory pensions for Canadian Pacific employees will replace the 33-year-old non-contributory system. Since the latter system's inception in 1903, the railway has paid out $18,201,640 in pensions. Under the new plan, officers and employees will contribute three per cent. of their wages or salaries. Pension rates will be unchanged and pensioning age will be the same as heretofore.

Twenty-three arrivals from British and continental ports and twenty-three departures by Canadian Pacific liners will constitute the passenger service from Saint John and Halifax during the coming winter season, it is announced from company headquarters. Season will commence November 28 and close in mid-April.

Alan M. Irwin, of Montreal, has been awarded one of the Pamphile Lemay prizes for his book, "and ships—and sealing wax," it was announced recently by Quebec Provincial Secretary Paquette. The book, written during a cruise around the world in the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, received the only English award in the Lemay prize list. "and ships—and sealing wax," which is published in Canada and Great Britain by Macmillan's, deals with the lighter side of cruising, and is a valuable, if informal, aid to would-be travellers.

Premier Aberhart Will Go to Ottawa.

When the Dominion-Provincial conference is called on Dec. 9th to discuss problems of mutual interest, Alberta will be represented by Premier Aberhart, Hon. Charles Cockroft and probably at least one other minister.

Premier Aberhart has stated that that those ministers will go whose departments will be affected by the discussion.

He stated that he had not yet received a copy of the agenda, and the complete Alberta delegation could not be named until that was received and the full program outlined.

WEEKLY SERMONETTE

"War is the expression and result of human lust, self-pleasing, self-aggrandisement. A fuller discernment of the causes out of which all wars spring, prepares the way for the Christian spirit, which dethrones lust and enthrones God, and teaches that all men are brothers. Only through the enthronement of God in the lives of men will we be able to usher in the day when nations shall learn war no more."
